Foreword

We cannot keep our friends with us forever; yet, we will not allow them to fade into obscurity. We cannot remain forever within the shadows of these sacred walls, neither will we suffer them to vanish into nothingness.

Our days here at State College slowly come to an end and we move out to venture into another world—to serve humanity. We leave behind the cherished memories that have endeared us to our Alma Mater.

As we go forth from old S. C.

Good leaders we will hope to be,

And stand for christianity,

As you have taught us State College. . .

To this end the Senior Class of 1964 has endeavored to preserve pictorially within the pages of this book a part of the life of State College as a stimulating memoir.

"Lest Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot, " we offer "The Ram" of 1964.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY

President Kennedy was a righteous man,
He believed in equal rights for all, all over the land.
He traveled far, and he traveled wide,
With his beautiful wife Jackie by his side.
They took many bows, and always took a stand.
President Kennedy met many of his countrymen,
He had many a foe, and many a friend.
He spoke out always for what he believed,
On his word he very seldom retrieved.
He sought to make this country even stronger,
Nobody knew that his time wouldn't be longer.
President Kennedy strove for world peace,
He always did his best, and never the least.
Time and pressure never riled this great man,
For he continued to strive for peace all over the land.
He carried out his duties both large and small,
He thought of his countrymen, whether short or tall.
President Kennedy had a burden he carried,
His country came first and he never tarried.
He carried his messages all over the world,
Hearts opened up for him, and flags were unfurled.
Now that his earthly duties have forever ceased,
We will never forget that this great man strove for world peace.

But the Scent of the Roses . . .

In memory for her Dedicated and Loyal Services: MRS. MARY P. SHERRILL, Assistant Dormitory Director.

THE SCENT OF THE ROSES

Let Fate do her worst; there are relics of joy,
Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy;
Which come in the night-time of sorrow
and care,
And bring back the features that joy
used to wear.
Long, long be my heart with such memories filled,
Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled—
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.

—Thomas Moore

Dedication

Through the guidance of Mrs. Wilma Lassiter the Senior class of 1964 has been able to overcome many difficulties and solve many problems which we could not have done otherwise. She has aided us in increasing our efficiency and improving our morale. She has given service that has proven invaluable to us as individuals and to the class as a whole...so to MRS. WILMA LASSITER, the person and the teacher, we dedicate this the 1964 "RAM".

MRS. WILMA LASSITER

Mrs. Lassiter and son Jim, who often attended our meetings.

President of the College

GREETINGS!

It is a pleasure to extend greetings to you, the members of the 1964 graduating class.

It is our hope that your years at Winston-Salem State College have created in you a genuine interest in scholarship and learning. If this is true, good books, great music and the world's best thinkers will inspire you throughout the remaining years of your lives. Your college years will be justified in every respect.

May I wish for all of you the best of everything!

Sincerely,

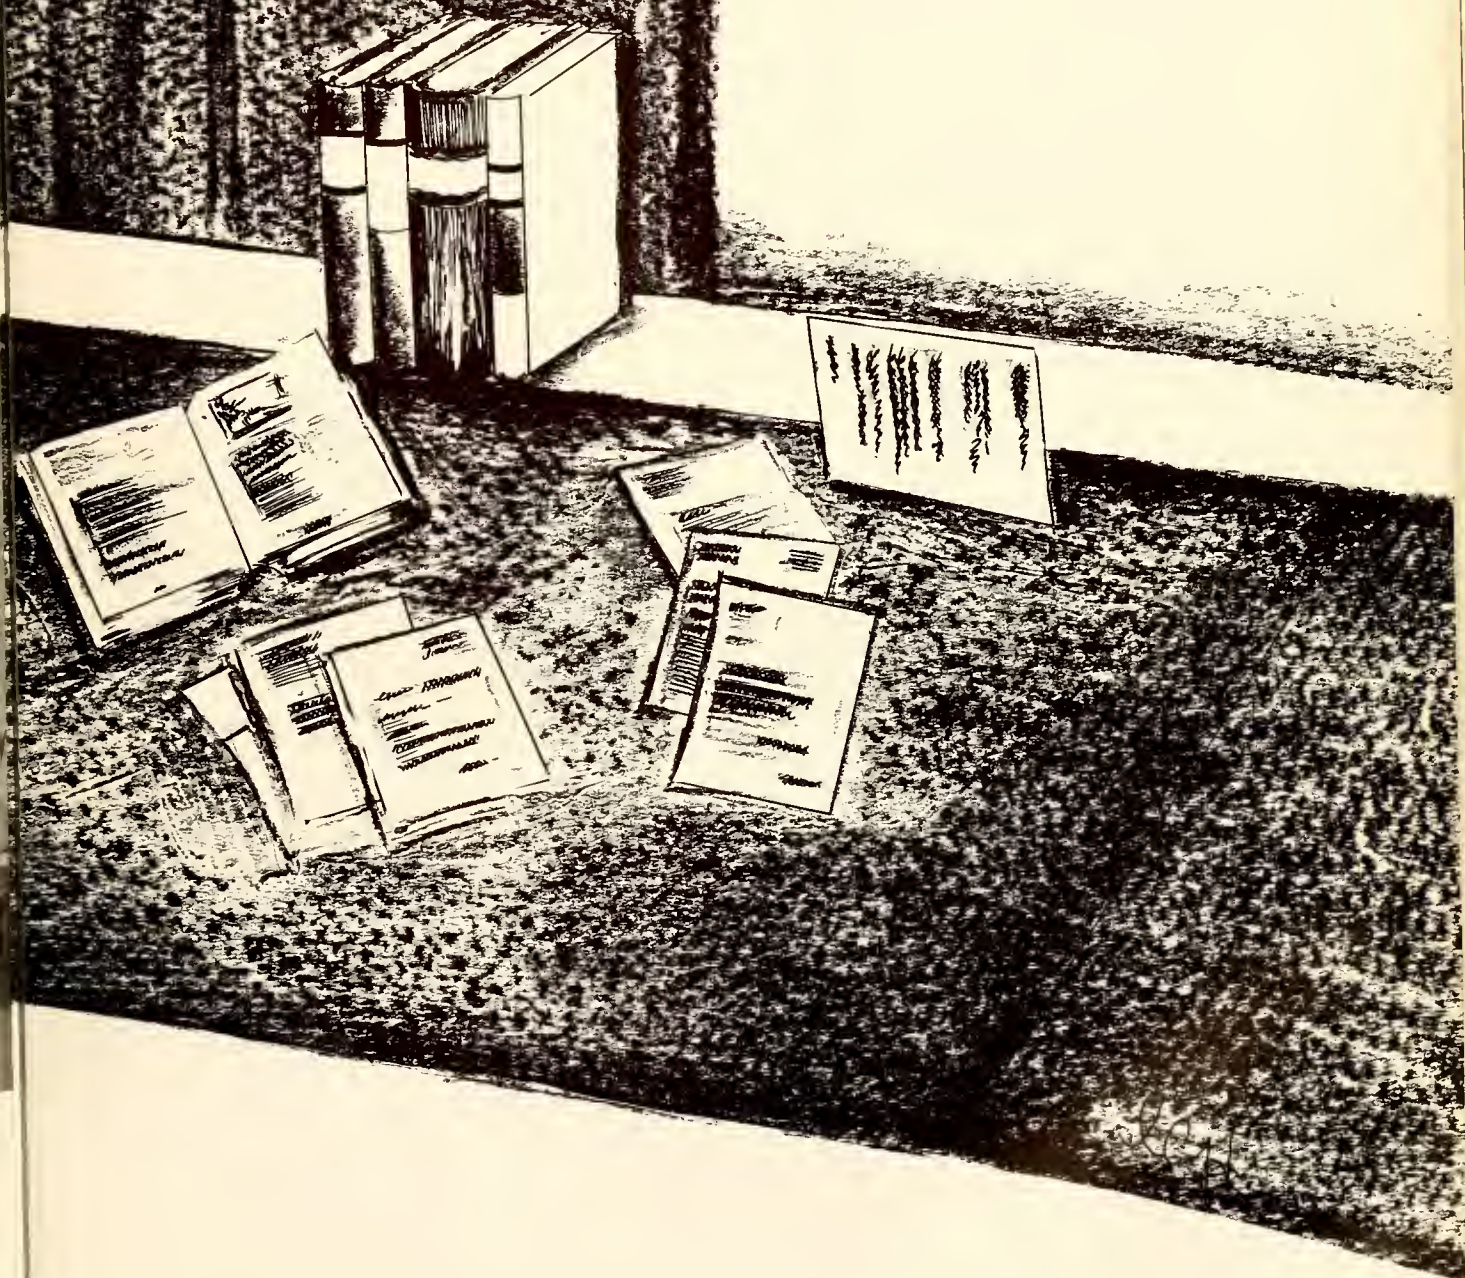

Johnny R. Williams

Class History

Our stay at Winston-Salem State College seemed short and we shall describe our four years at the college in four scenes.

Scene I

The first scene opened when we entered Winston-Salem State College. We joyously began a week of orientation by students who would be graduating the following year. Many of us came across students we had met during high school days.

After our week of orientation, we climaxed the week with our "Freshman Talent Show". The upper classmen had arrived on the campus and were eager to see what we as freshmen had to contribute to the college. The curtains rose and Emmett "Marty" Robinson stepped out on stage and his personality flowed all over the audience as he introduced himself.

Dorothy Stafford had the audience on pins and needles when she sang her rendition of "The Time", accompanied by Bessie Wagoner. She returned for at least eight bows. Following her on the program to complete a marvelous evening of entertainment were several other classmates.

We did not let our talent drop after our talent show. Many of our classmates joined the choir. Oraetta Beavers and Dorothy Stafford had the opportunity to sing as soloists during one of our Vesper programs. Dollye Kendall was a substitute pianist. Others in the choir were William Waters, Albert Rush, Barbara McCracken, Donald Walker, Beaufort Washington, Reginald Wiggins, Pauline Matthews, Barry Fonville, Sandra Taggart, Alice McCallum, Frances Price, Viola Durham, and Gloria Greene.

Our musical talent did not end with the choir. We traveled on and those who could not sing joined the college band. Joyce Henderson, Glenda Joyner, and Betty Fleming were chosen as majorettes by the band members. The students that chose to play instruments were James McNeil, Evelyn Moore, Clarice Warren, Hester Strickland, Joyce Williams, Marinda Mumford, Sara Jones, Clara McClinton, Vivian Leak, Lottie Sanders, Gloria Adams, and Charles Scotten.

The freshmen were easily recognized by the beauty the young ladies of the class possessed. Opportunities for making selections of these young ladies of the class possessed. Opportunities for making selections of these young ladies presented themselves when our homecoming celebration came into view. After much deliberation, Annette Larkins was chosen as an attendant to Miss Homecoming, the Sigma's sweetheart was Pauline Matthews, and the lovely Joyce Pratt was an attendant to Miss Ram.

Things were happening pretty fast. We finally became accustomed to the daily routine of classes. We studied very hard and strove for academic achievement. Many of our class members pledged sororities and fraternities.

During the year we as freshmen achieved many of our goals and looked forward to another prosperous year. The curtain slowly closed as scene one came to an end.

Scene II

The curtain rose on eager sophomores ready for another year of studying and participation in various activities. We knew the routine of registration by now and went through it in a breeze.

An event that we looked forward to as sophomores that did not occur during our freshmen year was the election of class officers. We were given a talented and efficient advisor, Mrs. Wilma Lassiter, who was able to guide us to success. Under her leadership the following persons were chosen as officers; Roland Penn, president; Emmett Robinson, vice-president; Mamie Lenior, secretary; Jeanette Richardson, financial secretary; Nathaniel Tollison, treasurer.

Our sophomore nursing students began to attend to duties at regular and lengthened intervals at the hospital. They were overjoyed at having duties in the local hospital and took their work very seriously as nurses should.

After a short time, we were again faced with the responsibility of choosing an attendant to Miss Winston-Salem State College. After much evaluation and observation, we decided to elect the lovely Joyce Pratt to serve as sophomore attendant. The gorgeous Julia McCollough was chosen to compete for the title of Miss Ram. Gloria Tyler was Miss Omega and Ruby Bolden was Miss Lampodas.

Sports took a turn for the best. We had Ostelle McKnight and Sam Edwards playing football and made outstanding achievements during the football season. After football season, our great basketball team had three hard playing sophomores to carry it to many victories. Those basketball stars were Richard Glover, Willie Curry, and Charlie Simmons. During the C. I. A. A. basketball tournament, we won the championship with the aid of our famous classmates. We had Benjamin Cureton and "Marty" Robinson representing the class in track.

This was an outstanding year in that we had many of our classmates crossing the burning sands into Greekdom. To mention a few we had the following young ladies to become members of Delta Sigma Theta: Iris Higgins, Lucia Daniels, Ruby Bolden, Inez Gooden, Bessie Wagoner, Mary Roseboro, Joyce Love, Gloria Tyler, Ida Knox, Paula Gwynn, Yolander Miller, Virginia Brown, Jeraldene Barnes, Neta Harshaw, Josephine Ballard, and Alice Sprinkle. This was considered one of the best lines to cross over into Delta land.

We had the Zetas with a line led by the magnificent singing performers; Dorothy Stafford, Hester Strickland, Pauline Matthews, Mary Ramseur, Frances Price, Marinda Mumford, and Ernestine Tate.

In the swinging spring, the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority dug deep into our class and took from it a fine share of young ladies who were Geraldine Omega Pete, Virginia Rogers, Betty Thompson, Joyce Pratt, and Joyce Henderson. Alpha Kappa Alpha has been sparkling ever since.

Although Alpha Phi Alpha was unable to get but one, it certainly couldn't have gotten a finer young man than James McNeal. Without his leadership, the Alphas would be suffering.

The great Omega Psi Phi Fraternity secured from our group of young men, Nathaniel Tollison, Roland Penn, Paul Perkins, and Sylvester Wooten. The chapter was grateful to have these young leaders.

Kappa Alpha Psi was fortunate to get John Duncan and Walter Gurley from our class. Since their induction, we have enjoyed candy, apples, and oranges at the games.

We as sophomores were allowed to choose a candidate to run for "Woman of the Year". The talented Dollye Kendall was chosen by popular vote. Naturally all of us were thrilled.

Class History

For the nurses, the capping exercise was an important event in our sophomore year. This was an outstanding exercise to highlight "open house".

Academically the class as a whole was doing very well. We were accustomed to study hours and had much to contribute to our classes. Geraldine Omega Pete was awarded a certificate by the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity for having the highest average in our great class.

As the time for our sophomore year came to a close, we were able to look back over our year's accomplishments while pondering over our coming year as juniors. The curtains closed as we looked forward to a happy, prosperous, enriching junior year.

Scene III

The third scene of our college years opened with the curtains rising on eager juniors. Many of our classmates had the privilege of becoming big brothers and sisters to the freshmen during orientation week.

Our nursing students at this time were well on their way to Crownsville Hospital in Crownsville, Maryland. From Crownsville they journeyed to Atlanta, Georgia, in groups of seven where their experiences were further enlightened. The nurses were away for a period of one school term.

While our nurses were away, those of us on the campus were preparing to journey forward and carry on the work of the junior class. Our first task was that of choosing class officers. Among us were many capable leaders; nevertheless, we chose the following persons: president, Dollye Kendall; vice-president, James McNeal; secretary, Mamie Lenoir, assistant secretary, Glenda Joyner; financial secretary, Jeanette Richardson; treasurer, Nathaniel Tollison.

Homecoming had a special meaning this year, for we were responsible for choosing a candidate for Miss Winston-Salem State College. From our garden of lovely beauties we had a very hard task of selecting a candidate; however, Ruby Bolden was selected. Helen Gore reigned as attendant to Miss Ram.

The junior qualification tests were a challenge for us. They had great bearing upon future studies as well as past experiences. After three days of testing, all of us gave a sigh of relief and waited anxiously for the results.

Many of us made academic and religious achievements this school term. We had Iris Higgins, and Yvonne Jackson selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. The National Honor Society, Alpha Kappa Mu, inducted the following members for the class: Geraldine Pete, Roland Penn, Dollye Kendall, Bessie Wagoner, and Vida Bailey. Pauline Matthews received an award for religious life on the campus.

Annette Larkins represented the class in the "Woman of the Year" contest. Members of the Student Council were Dollye Kendall, "Marty" Robinson, and Roland Penn.

As our junior year was fast coming to an end, it was our privilege to honor the seniors with a "Junior-Senior Prom". The theme of our prom was "Stairway to the Stars". We said good-bye to the seniors and the curtains came down on a refined class.

Scene IV

The last scene is a joyous one in that we are looking forward to graduation. To begin our senior year we had a number of our students preparing to do student teaching.

To carry on the position as the leader of the class we elected Geraldine Omega Pete as president. The following students were to help carry out her duties: vice-president, Nathaniel Tollison; secretary, Alice Sprinkle; assistant secretary, Barbara Carter; treasurer, Lorese Hines.

After the organization of the Class, the students prepared to take part in our last homecoming. The class chose Pauline Matthews to compete for the title of Miss Winston-Salem State College. The class was pleased with the results. The vivid Miss Pauline Matthews was crowned Miss Winston-Salem State College.

Our class president was doing a marvelous job as leader of the class and as president of the Student Council. This senior was Geraldine Pete. The council representatives for our class were Nathaniel Tollison and Vida Bailey.

We had queens in other areas also. The following seniors were crowned, Joyce Williams, Miss S. N. E. A.; and Yolander Miller, Miss Ram.

We needed a qualified person as editor of our yearbook. Julia McCollough was chosen as editor-in-chief. The students elected to help make the yearbook a success were as follows; executive editor, Doretha Powell; managing editor, Willie Grier; business manager, Annette Larkins; art editors, Elena Jones and Iris Higgins; circulation manager, Katie Scott; feature editor, Jasper Robinson; secretary, Jeanette Richardson; treasurer, Lorese Hines.

Serving on various committees to aid in the progress of the college were Lillie Carver and Bernice Bigelow on the academic standards, Geraldine Pete on the administrative council, Emmett Robinson on the homecoming committee, Roland Penn and Yvonne Jackson on intercollegiate athletics, Joyce Love on the calendar committee, Nathaniel Tollison and Dollye Kendall on the curriculum, Clementine Davis and Edith Russell on the health committee, Jeanette Richardson and Beatrice Riggs on the library committee, Barbara Carter and William Waters on the lyceum and social committee, and Mary Roseboro and James Mack on public relations.

The college newspaper, News Argus, had as its leaders Mary Roseboro, editor-in-chief; Sara Matthews, news editor; Yvonne Jackson, sports editor; several typists and proofreaders were chosen from the class.

The Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities again summoned members from our class. Among those chosen were Geraldine Pete, Vida Bailey, Virginia Rogers, Delois Wright, and Lucia Daniels.

We are in the midst of excitement. You may finish this as you watch us march down the aisles. We came to learn, and we shall depart to serve.

Class Prophecy

As I gaze into the wide window of the future, I see the Class of '64 as the new inhabitants of the planet Mars. Since we are able to travel about the planetary system, I have decided to see what the planetians from the Class of '64 are doing.

Traveling in my Jetmobile, I jet across DOROTHY WALKER and BETTY POWELL crossing the express jetway. They are on their way to Venus to spend the day in their exclusive offices. As I turn down Jetson Street, I see BETTY WILLIAMS driving her open-air space coupe. She is taking her family for an early morning drive. LUCIA DANIELS is flying along beside NATHANIEL TOLLISON, who has become the world's greatest planetary doctor.

SUSANNAH ROSEBORO has just become a great authority on art work of the planetary system. Her assistant is none other than MARIAN ANDERSON. IRIS HIGGINS is well known for her modeling of way-out planet-to-planet evening dresses. All of her designs are drawn by BARBARA PETERSON and ELENA JONES. JOAN TYLER is opening her ninth week at the "Midnight Club" on the planet Pluto. Her manager is the well known star of sky and stage RONALD HARBOR.

We have just been dialed on our car screen the information that NINA CHRISTIAN, SANDRA TAGGART, and DORETHA POWELL have just set a planetary record for traveling at the speed of two million miles per hour.

A big hospital has just been dedicated on Mercury for the cure of all ills. We find that the head nurse is SYLVIA ERVIN. EDITH RUSSELL is the chief resident physician assisted by CAROLYN McCLEAN and IDA KNOX. Nurses NORMA LEAK, MARTHA LEDBETTER, and EMMA NIXON have just finished assisting CLEMENTINE DAVIS at the General Planetary Hospital. JACQUELINE HILL, PATRICIA MACK, ERNESTINE DOSIER, and DELOIS WRIGHT are on their way to a nursing mission to help the disease-struck planet of Neptune.

After much visiting, we stop to rest and have lunch at the Planetary Drive-In owned and operated by HELEN GORE and PHYLLIS MARTIN. After a delectable lunch we venture down Moon Boulevard where we find numerous dress shops. VERA HALLUMS, ELEANOR BOYD, and LORENA GRIER each owns a shop. Their businesses are thriving and they give joint fashion shows monthly.

Oh! Oh! My gas is running low. As I coast into the nearest gas station, I see WILLIE GRIER and WALTER GURLEY. They have discovered that the planetary fuel business is a big money maker. They give me free service and I promise to come by again soon. As I wave leaving the station, I almost have a collision with a jet bus driven by ROGER INGRAM. After getting straight, I travel on. Opening at the Rivioli Planetary Drive-In Theatre are MAXINE McCALL, VIRGINIA LOWERY, and CLARA McCLINTON starring in "The Wonderful World of Loveliness". SARA JONES and EARLYNE McCLOUD are directing the picture.

One of the largest newspaper companies in the world is run by CAROL CARVER and KATIE SCOTT. FRANCES HARPER and BETTY CHAPMAN are the columnists.

An election year for the planetary system is coming up soon. WILLIAM WATERS and JAMES McNEAL have decided to run for president and vice president respectively. THELMA REEDY, ERNESTINE TATE, and KENNETH WILLIAMS have received Ph. D.'s in English from the University of Mars. HELEN McCOY and ELINOR WATERS are teaching at this University.

BARBARA GRAVES and PAULA GWYN are head nurses at Planetary Asylum. VIOLA DURHAM and GLORIA GREENE have opened beauty shops all over the planetary system. MARY RAMSEUR owns a fleet of Cadillac planetmobiles and JOYCE HENDERSON helps run the business.

JOANNE MACDONALD, ZELLA HOPKINS, and HESTER STRICKLAND are doing studies of Planetarymosis, a sleeping sickness of the planet Mercury. BARBARA GRIFFIN, JENNIE McDUFFIE, and GLORIA ADAMS have secured jobs in the Space Cadet School. A new type of plastic is being worked on by VIRGINIA ROGERS and JIMMIE HOUSTON. REGINA CUNNINGHAM and BARBARA PURDIE are on the staff of Planetary Baker's Shop.

CARRIE HOOD, NETA HARSHAW, and JOAN FERGUSON own the largest bank in the planetary system. MODINE SIMMONS and WILLIE SIMMONS work there as secretaries.

Class Prophecy

OBIE ARMSTRONG, JERALDINE BARNES, and ANNA BRIGGS are doing research in the field of "space foods for a healthier you".

WILLIE McCORMICK and KENNETH SHEPHARD are working together in the Scientific Institute on the planet Mars.

WILLIE CURRY, JANICE WALLACE, and HARRIET WILLIAMS have opened a gym to make boys and girls better basketball players. RICHARD GLOVER is working with the famous basketball Space Trotters. BARBARA CARTER is the head coach of the team and she is ably assisted by MARIAN CARTER.

LORESE HINES heads the Planetary Treasury Department. KAYE WILLIAMS, VIVIAN LEAKE, and MARGARET WHITE work in the Accounting Department. DELORES GRAHAM is president of the Inter-planetary Council. JOSEPHINE ISABELL and DORIS SPRUILL are proprietors of the fabulous planetary chopping center. PATRICIA WALKER, YOLANDER MILLER, and BRENDA SHELTON have just signed contracts with the planetary M G M (Movie Going Monsters).

The Starlight Club is owned by HELENE McDOWELL. Appearing nightly are F R E D E R I C K A LEE, MARY ALLEN, BARBARA McCRACKEN, and ALICE McCALLUM.

FRANCES PRICE, MINNIE ABRAMS, and VIRGINIA BROWN are traffic clerks in the Planetary Courthouse. MINNIE WILSON is the judge. GLORIA HARRISON is Court Recorder, and JOYCE WILLIAMS is her assistant. GLENDA JOYNER is District Attorney. SHIRLEY HARRINGTON, GAYNELL PULLEN, GERALDINE GREGORY, and MARY ROSEBORO are staff writers for Interplanetary Magazine. ALBERT RUSH, BARBARA PAYNE, SARA MATTHEWS, and BERNICE BIGELOW are studying Mars and its new heating plant.

EVELYN MOORE, DOLLYE KENDALL, ORAETTA BEAVERS, and BESSIE WAGONER are touring the planets as the system's greatest folk singers. GERALDINE PETE is their manager.

JUANELLO GREENWOOD, CAROLYN DICK, WILMA SUMMERS, and PATRICIA SEARCY own a dance studio west of Pluto. They have graduated such personalities as THOMAS TURNER, GLADYS CLAYTON, and EMMA COCKERHAM.

JEANETTE RICHARDSON is pianist for that great concert artist, PAULINE MATTHEWS. That great duet of FARRISH, BARBARA that is, and McCOLLOUGH, JUDY that is, still tours five planetary continents. BETTY ROUNDTREE, HESTERINE PITTMAN, and DAISY ROLAND are still in business as interior decorators.

The famous twins PAULINE and LILLERWEASE (MILLER) are making headlines with their famous tap dancing act.

MARTHA MURPHY, JEAN PRATT, and SANDRA MONTGOMERY are touring the night clubs as the Swinging Startones, JUDY FONVILLE, BEATRICE RIGGS, and HELEN GILCHRIST are in an orchestra directed by JOYCE LOVE. Other members of the orchestra are JEWELL TILLMAN, BETTY LAWRENCE, CATHERINE SCOTT, VIDA BAILEY, and DORIS GREENE.

HULDA HOOD, NELLIE CURRY, and IRIE PRATT own a studio which makes planetarians slim and trim. Some of their frequent visitors are ANNETTE LARKINS, ELAINE PERKINS, JENNIE PRICE, and ADA SLIGH.

As our tour comes to an end, we see PAUL PERKINS, CLARICE WARREN, ANNIE BROWN, DORIS HULL, and COSTELLA DAVIS on their weekly visit to an oasis on the moon owned by ROLAND PENN. His assistants are PRISCILLA THOMPSON, OSTEEL McKNIGHT, MARGARET HUNTER, and EMMETT ROBINSON.

ALICE SPRINKLE and SYLVESTER WOOTEN have just left on a tour of the planetary system. They will visit MAMIE LENOIR, EDDA THOMPSON, LONNIE HAMILTON, and NANCY KIMBALL.

This has been a wonder ful tour. The Class of '64 has gone places and continues to go places. When we were in school, we hoped we would reach great heights. We think we did! The future is even greater in possibilities. What about yours?

Julia McCollough

Class Poem

We entered State College four years ago,
To develop our minds of things we didn't know.
Now we leave to spread our knowledge,
That we have gained here at State College.
We've shared optimistic, and pessimistic days,
We've many friends and become accustomed to new ways.
Struggles, steppingstones, and hardships have been many,
To cope with the stresses, and strains of society have been plenty.
Education students were taught to help guide the minds of children,
To help them face reality and gain many friends.
Our nurses have been taught to soothe the wrong, and heal the hurt,
To answer patients questions without being curt.
We all have learned to look to God above all men,
To uphold our beliefs, and stray from sins.
Grateful to those who have striven so hard,
We extend our hands in sadness to depart.
To the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and all,
Strive always to uphold State College and it will never fall.
Education is our greatest need for tomorrow,
One can never look back on it in sorrow
The class bids each, and all a farewell,
We have had hard times, and many times that were swell.
Now we all say good-bye in our final departure,
We will always uphold State College's ideas that we have been taught here.
We, the senior class of 1964,
Bid all of you farewell, for we must go.
We shall uphold State College where ever we travel,
And be forever grateful to those who have taught us the knowledge we will unravel.

Class Song

(Tune: Exodus)

We're striving for success in this great land,
We hope to join that happy band,
This opportunity to educated be,
Is the only hope for our land of the free.
We're seniors of the class of '64,
We number 200 or more,
We've lived so happily here at dear old S. C.,
Our influence will thrive throughout eternity.
And when our days at old S. C. are done,
These days which shine much like the sun,
Our alma mater will, as we go through the years,
Ring in perfect harmony within our hearts.
The class of '64, S. C., S. C., We are the class of '64,
S. C., S. C., may God bless thee!
